- Don't be afraid to ask questions if you don't understand what's going on
- Making sure everyone has the opportunity for their voice to be heard
- All to attend stand-up meeting and wash-up meeting each day
 - Each team member will have 2-3 minutes to cover what they worked on during the wash-up meeting
- Treat each other with dignity and respect
- All stick to the Trello board and update progress where appropriate
- Push code regularly with expressive commit messages
- Make sure your code is approachable
 - Include expressive comments
 - Use sensible variable and function names
 - E.g. "sumBothIntegers" instead of "sum"
- Write at least a basic test for each component
- Communication will be via Slack

Outline the decision-making progress

- Use dot-voting
 - Each person writes down what they want
 - Each person gets 6 votes to spread around the options
 - Disagree and commit when a decision is reached
- 15-15-15 method
 - Anyone can write in Slack requesting a meeting in 15 minutes, outlining the problem they are faced with
 - If they manage to solve it themselves, they can cancel the meeting
- How to deal with conflicts?
 - Call the group together for a meeting
 - E.g. instead of letting a conflict fester in a pair, call everyone into the same call and discuss it/switch things up
 - The other pair could offer an unbiased stance
